

Mr Justin Owen

I was born and raised in Lancashire and crossed the Pennines to study Mechanical Engineering at Sheffield Hallam University and combined this with climbing and fell running in the Peak District, Lakes, Wales and the Scottish Highlands.

My career has been in lasers; automating pharmaceutical drug discovery processes; automated cell culture; and, most recently, developing surgical robotics. This brought moves back and forth between the Midlands and Cambridge until, in 2014, we chose to settle in Thurlaston.

We enjoy living here and as a family can often be found cycling and walking the nearby lanes and footpath and I would like to help safeguard the village and its surroundings for today's residents and for future generations.
